Corr Mhóna are proud to announce that we are once again gracing the stage on Sunday 5th of July at the mighty Siege of Limerick! This twice annual free festival in Limerick is the highlight of the calendar year for metal fans in Ireland. Hundreds of fans head down to swarm over the city for the bank holiday weekend. This is our third time attending the event. We will be playing a couple of tracks from our upcoming album at this. Details on site as and when we know the stage times!

CORR MÓNA

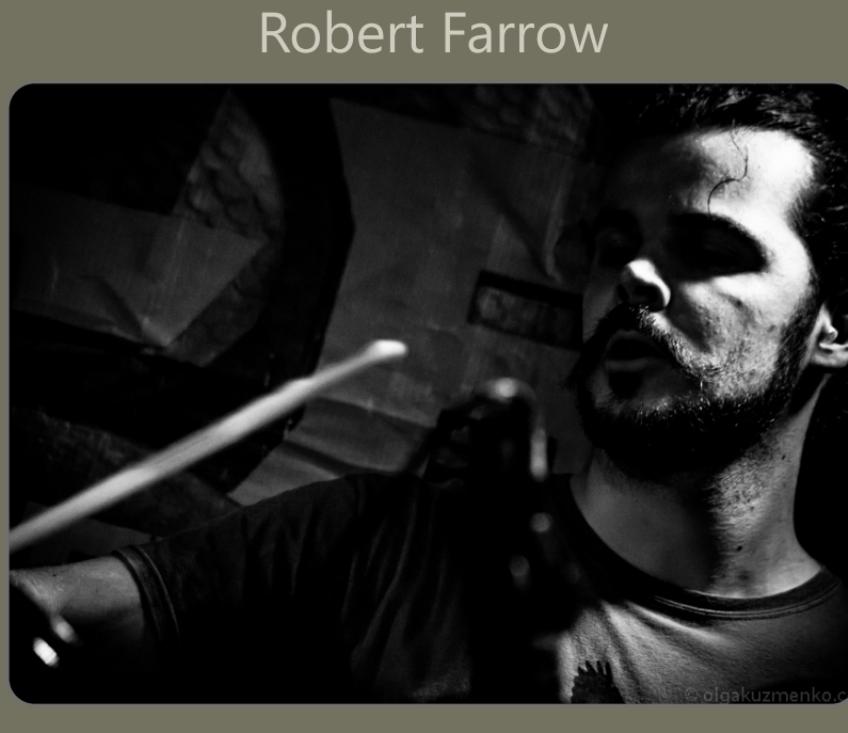

BIOGRAPHY

Corr Mhóna are a West Cork metal band. Our music is a blend of several different genres, with doom and death metal elements more prominent. Variations of vocal styles are an important part of our music, with combinations of harmonies and arrangements all sung by three vocalists within the band. Corr Mhóna sing entirely in the Irish language (Gaeilge) and take great pride in engaging with and promoting our native tongue. The band originated in and around the town of Bandon in 2011 and consists of two pairs of brothers. When we released our demo and subsequent e.p. (see [here] for details) the music public of Ireland began to take notice, and our music was well received. Gigs across Ireland and the U.K. followed.

Dair

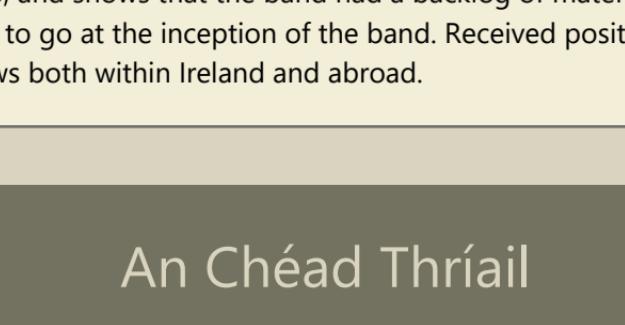

CORR MÓNA

(2019) Corr Mhóna's debut album, Dair is an atmospheric journey through foreboding and obscure musical landscapes, finetuned over 3 years of composition and recording. Written while band members were travelling to far flung climes, the music viscerally displays the dissonance and conflict caused by such difficulties. Full of light and shade, heavy and light, with multiple vocals, vocal styles and passages, Dair shows the maturity and confidence of a band at the height of their powers.

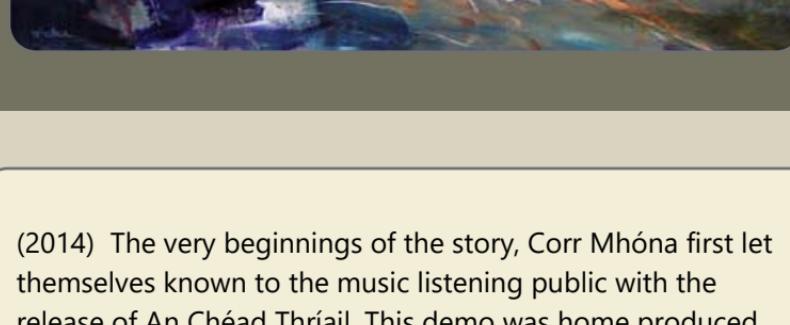

Corrguineacht

CORR MÓNA

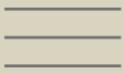

(2016) Corr Mhóna began to get the ball rolling creatively with their first e.p. Corrguineacht. This was recorded professionally in a studio, and the broad range of influence and creative styles that make the band distinct begin to show themselves here. With 7 tracks and 35 mins long, Corrguineacht is generous for an e.p, and shows that the band had a backlog of material ready to go at the inception of the band. Received positive reviews both within Ireland and abroad.

An Chéad Thríail

(2014) The very beginnings of the story, Corr Mhóna first let themselves known to the music listening public with the release of An Chéad Thríail. This demo was home produced, and this is apparent on first listen; there is a rawness and honesty to the recording. There are only three tracks on the demo, all of which would be re-recorded for 2016's Corrguineacht.
